The contest is open to both amateur and professional photographers. Submit images taken any time within the past 5 years from anywhere in our watersheds. You'll find beauty everywhere, including Ridley Creek State Park, Saul Wildlife Sanctuary, Rose Tree Park, Okehocking Preserve, Bartram Bridge, Serpentine Preserve, Crozer Park, and many others.

CRC is hosting a

Watersheds Photo Contest

in honor of its

50th Anniversary

CRC Watersheds Association

Entry is Easy

Submit your photos digitally
by September 1, 2019
in JPEG format, 300 dpi, to http://www.crcwatersheds.org/index.php?s=104

Judging

Entries will be judged for originality, composition, and storytelling.

Jurors

The submitted photographs will be judged by three jurors.

- Paula Jackson is the owner of Beauty Art, Gifts and Décor, 3857 Providence Road in Newtown Square. She has presided over multiple photo contests through her gallery and is a former board member of CRC.
- Tracy Bouvette is a visual artist and CRC Treasurer.
- Beth Murray is a CRC board member who has also judged several photo contests.

Capture the beauty of the creeks, woods, hills, valleys and wildlife displayed in the Chester, Ridley and Crum watersheds.

Entry Fee

$15 entry fee for
1 to 3 photos entered.

Winners Recognition

Winners will be notified on October 1
Top prizes are $75, $50 and $25

- 12 winning photos printed and for sale at the 15th Annual CRC Awards Dinner Silent Auction.
- 12 winning photos part of 2020 CRC Calendar.
- Reception and presentation of awards, October 26, at Beauty Art, Gifts and Décor.
- One submission per photographer will be featured on CRC's website.